LACONDA LACONICS.

Items of Interest from Springfield's Lively Little Suburb.

Edward Holden took a four-horse load of young folks to the camp meeting Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Durkee, of Plattburg, spent Sabbath at R. C. Nelson's.

Miss Minnie Tavenner has gone to Vienna for a two weeks' visit among relatives.

Our Champion missionaries are coming home from their different fields of labor. C. M. Tuttle has come back from Kenton, J. H. Baldwin from Wisconsin, Geo. Sprain from Michigan and Frank Burley from New York. Mr. Burley's health was somewhat impaired so that he had to come home sooner than he otherwise would.

It is not often that a married couple have the pleasure of dedicating their new house by celebrating their silver wedding in it, but such was the peculiar pleasure enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Allen, of 315 Lagonda avenue, last Saturday. They were married twenty-five years ago at Catawba, and their union has been blessed with three daughters and a son, all of whom are living.

A large circle of friends and relatives gathered, therefore, on Saturday to extend their best wishes and congratulations to the happy family. At noon a splendid dinner was enjoyed and the day pleasantly spent in conversation and music. Among the beautiful and useful presents received were one-half dozen desert spoons, two silver dishes, silver sugar receiver, silver butter dish, large lamp, sugar shell, cream pitcher, large plush album, two towels, two hand painted wooden dishes, one napkin ring.

Among those present were: Rev. C. J. Burkert, W. B. Locke and wife, W. H. Berger, J. M. Berger, D. C. Lawrence and wife, P. Haer, wife and daughter, James Bryant and wife, Mrs. Dr. Nelson, Mrs. F. McCartney, Mrs. Kreps, Mrs. Shook and daughter, Miss Mary, Wm. Whitty and wife, J. N. Stauter and wife, Miss Grace Locke, all of Lagonda; Mr. Sellers and wife, Charles Poles and wife, Geo. Achinson and wife, Mrs. W. W. Diehl, of the city; George Durkee and Vienna; Andrew Nicholson and wife, Mr. Smith and wife, of Plattburg; Mrs. S. Marriott, of Marysville; Mrs. J. M. Allen and Mrs. Pratt, of Fayette county; Mrs. M. Pates, of London; Mrs. Markley, of Sonnerford; Dr. Whitaker and Miss Tanager, of Tremont; Mrs. P. Atkinson, of Hamilton; Miss Amanda Runyon, and Miss Katie Zanon, of Mechanicsburg and others and others.

Some of the guests at Mr. Allen's anniversary got off a joke on J. M. Berger that is too good to be lost. They asked J. M. if that buggy of his was the one that he had fixed over. John did not understand. They explained that they heard he had met with an accident, and had his buggy tilted up with new fellows. Those understanding the joke will know why John fell down when it was given to him.

HE GLORIES IN HIS RECORD.

What the Prohibition Candidate for Vice President Says of Blaine.

Dr. John A. Brooks, the candidate for vice president on the prohibition ticket, in a speech at Chicago a few weeks ago, admitted that he was with the rebel army during the rebellion, and added: "I was on the opposite side exactly from my distinguished general (Fiske). While he was fighting in the Union army I was praying he might get licked by the rebels."

Also, in a speech at Decatur, Ill., on the 26th ult., he very frankly admitted that he had been rebel, a slaveholder, and a fire-eating democrat, but thanked God that he had never been a republican, and that he would not have that sin to answer for. He exhorted Christian people to vote as they pray, and asserted that if the democrats and republicans did not join the prohibitionists the devil would get them.

Death of a Child.

Harry, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William Griffith, No. 53 Penn street, died this morning at 7 o'clock of cholera infantum. The funeral will take place from the residence Tuesday at 3 p. m.

THE CAMP MEETING.

Great Crowd on Saturday and a Larger One Sunday—The Services in Detail.

Special Correspondence of the Republic.

URBANA CAMP GROUNDS, Aug. 12.—The camp meeting continues to boom. It is simply the greatest outpouring of people ever known at an encampment on these grounds, not even excepting the famous national meetings fifteen years ago. There is no question but what these grounds are becoming more popular each year, and with the great improvements being made by the association, they are destined to excel all camp grounds in this country. If there was nothing more to give the place an attraction than the fact that the management was doing so much to build up and make the little wooded city a place to be proud of, that is all that would be needed. There is certainly a feeling that the enterprise and efforts to put the grounds in as attractive and inviting a condition as possible, should be sustained by the people and they are coming up royally to the help. Just think of the improvements made in the past few years. The immense auditorium at a cost of $4,000; the young people's pavilion at a cost of $1,000; then the immense and attractive new hotel at a cost of $4,500. Almost $10,000 expended in a few years by improvements. Yet the projectors have the satisfaction of seeing one of the best equipped and handsomest encampments to be found.

Another feature is the very excellent array of ministerial talent that has been secured. There never was a more efficient array of preachers brought together than that for this meeting.

SATURDAY IN CAMP.

Saturday, the third day of the camp meeting, was characterized by the most delightful weather that could be imagined. The day was perfect. It broke cool and clear, and the air was as bracing and crystalline and invigorating as the breath of some mountain-top as it comes wafting from the bosom of the sea.

The religious services of the day were of the most interesting character. The first of the children's meetings was held Friday afternoon, under the direction of Mrs. Rev. W. I. Fee. It was a grand opening of the services for the little folks. At 3 o'clock Rev. Isaac Crook, D. D., pastor of St. Paul church, Delaware, O., occupied the pulpit. He preached from I. Thessalonians, I, 5. The discourse was on the doctrine of assurance, and was a very tender discourse on a very pleasing theme. The first young people's meeting was held at 4 o'clock. Rev. Wm. N. Brodbeck was in charge. It was a most excellent service. At the close an altar service was held, and numbers gathered around the altar to consecrate their energies to the work of saving souls. Mr. Brodbeck is a most earnest worker, and will be a great help in the interest of the young people.

The early 5 o'clock prayer-meeting was led by Eugene Staley, the converted Dayton policeman. This meeting is one of the best held, for the reason that no one is present but those who come for good.

SUNDAY ON THE GROUNDS.

The first Sunday of the Urbana camp meeting has been far ahead of expectations of the managers. It was believed that with all the attractions booked for the coming week the attendance today would naturally be small, but not so. Early crowds began to pour in, and by noon six or seven thousand people had passed within the inclosure, including hundreds from Springfield.

The religious services of the day began with the 3 o'clock prayer-meeting, then the 5 o'clock love feast, led by Rev. Isaac Crook, of Delaware. At this service Dr. Crook succeeded in drawing out a vast number of spiritual and appropriate testimonies, especially from Christians of this section, who are largely represented at this meeting. Time being out, he called for a rising vote of those who desired to speak, and over a hundred stood up. At 10 o'clock the auditorium was filled to overflowing with a congregation, eager to hear Rev. W. A. Robinson, of Cleveland.

Just about noon rain began falling, and what a scattering among white dresses, big hats and camp meeting regalia.

Three o'clock came, and rain or no rain would stop the people from crowding the auditorium. The center of attraction was that prince of orators, General William H. Gibson, of Illinois. The general is only a local minister of the Methodist church, but he can give nine-tenths of regularly-ordained ministers pointers on preaching. His sermon was a wonderful flow of oratory. The general is a characteristic speaker, and was never known to talk on either religion, temperance, politics or army life without becoming intensely interesting. His discourse was over an hour long, and his congregation would willingly have listened twice as long. In the evening Rev. J. H. McConnell, of Columbus, delivered a powerful discourse.

NOTES AND ITEMS.

A Nebraska tornado blew a cow's tail bald without injuring the animal.

Tan colored boots for men are becoming very fashionable in London.

Russia's new military law will increase her army by 400,000 men. Hail to peace!

Astoria, Ore., has a Chinese missionary who makes addresses in the streets and attracts large audiences.

The French people seem to grow more and more reckless morally. Now excerpts from one of Zola's novels have been set to music and will be sung at the Opera in Paris.

Electric engines of 300 horse power each, three together in each locomotive, working independently, are about to be substituted for steam locomotives on the Metropolitan Underground railroad in London.

Though Philadelphia has not succeeded in finding natural gas, she now has an establishment that manufactures it at six cents a hundred, and enthusiastically pronounces it "the fuel of the future."

The Georgia fruit and vegetable growers have overdone the business this year. The market has been glutted, and they have made but little money. Unless they can avail themselves of the western markets they will have to reduce operations.

It is a fact, though a rather strange one, that three-fourths of the bakers who are employed in the United States are men of German birth. Comparatively few women are engaged in the occupation, although some establishments employ women for fancy work.

I. D. Eaton will run a passenger wagon to Urbana camp meeting on Wednesday, Thursday and Sunday. Fare for round trip $1. Leave orders at Troup's drug store. Telephone 430. Will leave Troup's drug store at 7 o'clock a. m.

If every man minded his P's and Q's as carefully as he looks after his E's, the human race would be much more Y's.

A young man who had been lost on a Dakota prairie for three days finally came upon a wagon trail and started to follow it. He had not gone far when he came upon a piece of a St. Paul newspaper which some teamster had thrown away. He picked it up eagerly and the first words which struck his eye were contained in the following glaring headline: "The Northwest is Overcrowded; No Room for Young Men."
